Serenity Equine Rescue & Rehabilitation is a rescue and sanctuary program specializing in equine rescue, rehabilitation, education and healing, and has been registered as a 501(c)(3) non-profit and Washington State Charitable Organization since February 2008.

Serenity is hosted on a privately owned horse farm in Maple Valley, WA. Executive Director, Patricia Clark, has provided the use of her property to Serenity since its inception in May 2007 when she began to take in horses from a hoarding situation. The case was one of the largest equine hoarding cases in King County and eventually saved over 70 horses.

At Serenity, neglected or abused horses receive quality veterinary care, are socialized, and given essential training in preparation for adoption. As a result, the emotional and physical turnaround of these horses is nothing short of miraculous.

The average horse has seven homes in its life time. We are determined to make their next home the last one. Our focus is different from most rescues in that we are not concerned with how long they stay. We concentrate on working through the behaviors that they have acquired on their journey that may have contributed to their ending up in the slaughter pen or being re-homed multiple times. To continue our efforts we are hosting our annual Hearts and Horses event to ensure there is always a place for horses in need. We appreciate your consideration in support of our mission!
